'Tis the Season

As 2021 is coming to a close, it's the time when I like to reflect on the blessings and the lessons of the past year.

One end-of-the-year exercise I commit to is taking the time to write down all the things for which I'm grateful. In spite of, or perhaps because of, all the Zoom meetings, I've been able to deepen friendships both personally and professionally. Our AAUW branch members play a big role in all that I'm grateful for this past year.

There is something about working collegially on projects with smart, talented people that brings out my creative side and is so fulfilling.

During 2021, our branch was able to continue to meet, attend events, and hold interest group activities—all while staying safe during these uncertain times.

2022 looks to be a year where we get to climb out of the morass. We have COVID protocols in place for meeting in person. There are plans to host some in-person events while we continue to offer some events via Zoom as we transition out of the pandemic.

Happy Birthday AAUW!

This year National AAUW celebrated 140 years of working to empower women. We have come a long way from the first study to disprove that a college education impairs fertility! AAUW CA started with 13 branches, who decided in October 1921 to create a statewide organization—which today has more than 9,500 members in 119 branches.

Wouldn't it be great to celebrate AAUW's rich accomplishments by making our own contributions to improve the lives of others?

Make 2022 a Year to Re-Connect!

With a Little Help From My Friends (Yes, more Beatles references!)

Our FUND Committee is looking for help hosting a spring in-person event. Can you be our host? We need a host for this one event. Let Pam Bugbee and Elaine Graves know you want to be part of the team! See page 5.

Come Together!

Attend an upcoming program! On January 20, former San Ramon poet laureate and educator Kate Moore will talk to us about her passion for the written word. Watch for the update on this event.

Our Tech Trek Committee can use our help to review applications for the talented and inquisitive middle-school students who would like to attend Tech Trek Camp. Can you help? Call Stella Hadjimarkos or Cordelia Hwang.

There's lots of fun to be had in 2022! In the words of Eleanor Roosevelt, "Life is what you make it. Always has been, always will be." What will you make the new year?

Wishing you and yours a healthy and joyous holiday season and a New Year filled with new adventures.

Janice Colby,
Co-President with Kathleen Schaub

Program

Many thanks to Karen Rice for her very uplifting presentation in November. We learned a lot about dealing with anxiety, change, and stress. Karen provided some great tips on staying healthy during these ever-changing times and how to just “let it be.”

Our December event will be an in-person event to celebrate the holidays! Join your AAUW friends for a lively gathering where we can be “All Together Now.” We will meet in the Bollinger Hills Cabana, located at 2951 Morgan Drive from 1:00 PM to 3:00 PM on December 12. We will have tasty snacks, cheery beverages, and even a game or two. Guests (spouses, partners, significant others) are invited too. Look for an Evite and please respond so we get an accurate count of people. So come by any time, gather with your friends, and have some fun!

Please note, we will follow current health guidelines and AAUW San Ramon protocols for in-person events. This means we ask that all attendees show proof of vaccination upon entering the event, sign the waiver sheet at the door, and wear a mask when not eating or drinking.

Save the Date!

January 20, 2022 at 7:00 PM

January 20, 2022 is the date of our next program, “Now and Then.” We will hear from Kate Moore, who recently published her first book, Elinormal. The 2021–2022 branch directory is ready to go and will be e-mailed to you the first week of December. When you receive it, please take a look at your entry and let Margo James know of any additions, errors, or changes. When applicable, your information will also be updated on Evite and the National AAUW database.

The deadline to renew your membership for 2021–2022 was November 30. Please contact your Membership Team if you need assistance with the renewal process.

Prospective Member Guests & Shape The Future Discount

We look forward to seeing you at the holiday gathering on Sunday, December 12 from 1:00–3:00 PM. Check your e-mail for your invitation via Evite.

Guests are welcome! It is particularly important that we notify prospective guests of the protocols in place prior to our meeting them in person. If you know someone who is interested in learning about and potentially joining our branch, please share their contact information with the Membership Team. We will invite them to the next branch event(s). Remember that during this time of year, we are able to extend the Shape The Future discount to new members who join at or soon after public events. The discount is 50% off the national dues for one year—a $31 savings. The Shape The Future campaign continues into the spring.

Fund

Hopefully members were able to watch and listen to at least one of the AAUW California Fund Events in October and November which showcased the 37 2021–2022 Fellowship/Grant recipients. If not, the events were recorded and can be watched using the following link: <https://www.aauw-ca.org/aauw-2021-fund-events/>.

Help Needed

In years past our branch has hosted a Fellowship/Grant recipient to speak during a luncheon the Fund Committee has organized. Due to COVID last year, that was not possible. We are hoping to resume this event in April of 2022, BUT we need a venue. Although COVID concerns are better under control but not completely eradicated, we are interested in a location that could provide for 20 (if room allows, possibly up to 30) attendees with good ventilation. This means a home with an option to spread outside to a patio (or just doors or windows open) or a large homeowner cabana. Please contact either Elaine Graves or Pam Bugbee if you can help.

Regards,
Pamela Bugbee,
Co-Vice President, Fund with Elaine Graves

IBC Update

The Contra Costa County Interbranch Council (CCC IBC) met on November 16. This committee comprises representatives from each AAUW branch in Contra Costa County and meets five times a year. Its purpose is to share information from AAUW CA as well as provide updates from each branch on challenges, opportunities, and events. The committee also plans an annual Ice Cream Social for girls selected to go to Tech Trek camp. Other programs of general interest have been planned in the past as well.

At the November meeting, we heard a very interesting presentation from two directors on the AAUW CA Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) Committee. This is a new committee formed at the state level. While DEI has always been part of the AAUW mission, the formation of the committee is intended to provide resources to the branches around this topic. The DEI committee mission statement is:

AAUW seeks to promote inclusion and awareness for all members to create an equitable, sustainable, and inclusive membership reflective of today's world.

AAUW also has a DEI committee and has developed toolkits and resources for branches for use in programming and discussing this very important topic.

AAUW San Ramon plans to hold a program on February 17, 2022 on this topic. We will hear from a member of the San Ramon Valley Unified School District on schools addressing diversity, equity, and inclusion. We will also hear from an individual who will share her personal story and challenges currently faced by the LGBTQ community. More specific details will come in the January newsletter!

If you would like more information on this important topic, please contact me.

Tech Trek

As the year comes to an end, the California Tech Trek Leadership reflects on all that we accomplished this year, as well as planning for next year and setting the vision for the future.

Accomplishments for AAUW CA Tech Trek in 2021

Let the numbers tell the story of our accomplishments. During the 2021 Virtual Camps we featured

- 624 campers over 3 weeks of camps,
- 229 volunteers,
- >10,000 hours of prep time,
- Single Core Class—Qualcomm's Thinkabit Wearable Tech attended by all students, and
- 12 90-minute workshops offered; 4 mandatory, 8 optional.

Plans for CA Tech Trek in 2022

We were very fortunate to get a new Tech Trek Program Director, Karen Manelis, who led a webinar on October 26, and a new Financial Liaison, Susan Stecklair.

The 2022 Tech Trek Camp current plans are for IN-PERSON camps for a total of nine (9) weeks of camp on seven (7) partner campuses: Stanford, Sonoma, UC Davis, Whittier, San Diego, Fresno, and Santa Barbara. The San Ramon branch chose Sonoma as our first-choice campus with UC Davis as an alternate. The CDC, FDA, State and School mandates will be followed. This info will be included on the application. There is a backup plan to switch to virtual camps if need be.

The cost is still unknown but is expected to rise up to 50%, to $1,500 per camper. Our branch aims to send six (6) students to camp. The information packets with forms for the volunteers and teachers are expected to be sent around December 1. The dates for the camps will not be known until January.

Our leaders are researching new “off the shelf” camp management software to replace all paper forms and streamline the process from nomination to camp follow-ups. At least four programs are being evaluated. Training will be provided. The cost of the software and the training hopefully will be covered by undesignated grant funding so the branches will not have to be charged.

AAUW CA Tech Trek Committee

A Tech Trek Committee was appointed in July and held a meeting on October 25. Its immediate goals are to use input and expertise from AAUW CA and Tech Trek communities to advance and strengthen the Tech Trek Program. It established work groups to tackle the following issues: Technology, Social Media, Tech Trek Alumnae Groups (TTAG), Data Evaluation/Coordination, Grants, and Training.

Its tasks for 2022 are as follows:

- Create Branch Coordinator peer group and provide training for all volunteer roles.
- Establish relationships with professional STEM organizations (like Society of Women Engineers, etc.) that we can tap into for faculty and staff to develop curriculum.
- Move Evaluation and Marketing needs from a tri-fold to online methods.
- Come up with better tracking of past campers.
- Improve finance by reviewing job descriptions, revamping stipends, and clarifying family fees.
- Increase camper diversity, review camper-to-staff ratio and essay questions.

Public Policy

This month we share excerpts from an article presented in The Hechinger Report, which covers “Innovation and Inequality in Education.” The article goes into some depth about how the Infrastructure Bill could benefit women, especially women of color, who have been marginalized when seeking careers in the construction trades.

Submitted by Catherine Lewis,
Public Policy Chair

Women have been marginalized in the building trades. The infrastructure bill could change that.

Advocates say the bill presents an opportunity to bring down barriers that have long kept women and people of color from construction jobs.

by Caroline Preston, November 3, 2021

Fewer than 11 percent of payroll employees in construction are female, and when it comes to the industry’s non-office jobs that require working with tools, the share is even smaller, 4 percent. Meanwhile, nearly 89 percent of construction employees are white (including some Hispanic people). . . .

The infrastructure and domestic spending bills represent an historic opportunity to change those numbers, advocates say. The $1 trillion infrastructure bill would create hundreds of thousands of jobs, if not millions, repairing roads, ports and bridges, electrifying the power grid, replacing aged pipes and expanding high-speed Internet. The framework for [the] $1.75 trillion domestic spending bill includes nearly $30 billion in workforce training and other investments that tradeswomen and workforce experts say could help recruit, train and retain women and people of color, who’ve been marginalized by sexism and racism within the construction industry.

Hostility to women, along with opaque pathways into the trades that favor friends, brothers, in-laws and other relatives, . . . have combined to drive down the number of women and people of color. Even amid a severe shortage of skilled trades workers that has left employers scrambling to fill openings, the barriers to entry for women remain high. . . .

As the building trades face a “silver tsunami” of retirements, many infrastructure jobs (most of which are in construction) are already going vacant. According to a September study by the National League of Cities, more than 30 percent of infrastructure jobs are hard to fill, meaning it takes longer than expected to fill them, and 32 percent of manager positions in infrastructure are open for more than 45 days.

In part because of the high numbers of infrastructure workers retiring—an estimated 2.7 million over the past decade—some employers appear to be more open to recruiting women now than they were in the past. Women’s share of construction trades jobs increased from about 3 percent to 4 percent over the past five or so years, according to Ariane Hegewisch, a senior research fellow at the nonprofit Institute for Women’s Policy Research. Meanwhile, construction was one of just two industries in which the number of women workers increased since February 2020, she said. . . .

While President Biden’s infrastructure proposal called for $100 billion in workforce training, that money was left out of the Senate version of the bill. So, too, was an amendment sponsored by Senator Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) that would have set a goal that 15 percent of labor hours on projects be completed by apprentices, along with support for training and child care and requirements for respectful workplaces.

Now advocates are pinning their hopes on the domestic spending bill before Congress. A draft containing tens of billions for workforce development including trades pre-apprenticeship and apprenticeship programs, left them encouraged. So, too, does the bill’s commitment to making child care more affordable: The lack of child care often makes a career in the trades, with its demanding, irregular hours, a non-starter for women.

Mountain Mike's Pizza Fundraiser Update

Thank you to our AAUW members, family, neighbors, friends, and co-workers who participated in the Mountain Mike's Pizza Fundraiser for Local Scholarship on November 10. We are really pleased with the wonderful support from everyone! You purchased 65 pizzas that day! We received a check for $412, which was 30% of the promotional sales for the day.

We are getting closer to our goal of $5,000! If you'd like to support Local Scholarship, it's not too late. The more money we raise, the more scholarships we can give this year. You can send a check to AAUW San Ramon and write Local Scholarship on the memo line. If you'd like a tax writeoff, address the check to AAUW-CA SPF. On the memo line, write Local Scholarship-San Ramon. Your check will be sent to the Special Project Fund in Sacramento. Checks can be sent to our treasurer, Claire Mailhiot.

Celena Johnson (a 2019 recipient) sent the following update in a recent letter:

"Wishing you many blessings and happiness this season...I am forever grateful for all of your support in helping me accomplish my goal to become a NICU Nurse."

Celena states that her expected graduation date is Fall 2022 and she will be graduating with a Bachelor's of Science degree in Public Health. She plans to apply to an entry-level Master's Nursing program or a traditional RN Program.

Save the Date! Wednesday, January 12, 2022

Local Scholarship is having a fundraiser on January 12 at Fresh Millions, a local restaurant that specializes in fresh salads, sandwiches, and hot bowls. Local Scholarship will receive 50% of the promotional sales for the day.

More information will be coming next month. There is also a flyer attached at the end of this newsletter for you to save and hand out to friends, family, neighbors, etc.

Donor Gift Basket Drawing Postponed Until March

When the Membership Team recently met, we realized that there was little time for members to donate to Local Scholarship before the Holiday Social on December 12. We had planned to have a thank-you gift basket drawing for all donors at that time.

Although we still plan to have a drawing, in order to give members adequate time to plan and make their donations, we are changing the drawing date to March—National Women's History month—perhaps to coincide with the March program. Any of our members who make an individual monetary donation (of any size) to Local Scholarship, either directly or through SPF, will have their name entered in a drawing for a gift basket containing gift cards, wine, and other fun surprises! Donations made starting July 1, 2021 through the day of the drawing in March, 2022 are eligible. One LUCKY donor's name will be drawn, and the winner doesn't need to be present to win. Thank you in advance for your support!
